

Today's at-home learning theme:

Colonial America

- At 2 pm, join Colonial Williamsburg to “meet” Patrick Henry:
<https://www.facebook.com/ColonialWilliamsburg/posts/10157541492509576>
- Learn more about Colonial Williamsburg with these activities, crafts, virtual field trips, and more: <https://www.colonialwilliamsburg.org/learn/explore-from-home/>
- Get others to join your colony! Create a brochure with this guide from Houghton Mifflin regarding your chosen colony: <http://www.proteacher.com/redirect.php?goto=1391>
- Decide for yourself who is fit to lead the colony of Jamestown with this activity by UVA: <http://www2.vcdh.virginia.edu/teaching/jamestown/leadership.html>
- Complete the activities beginning on page 14 including the math recipe for pottage and the journal entries: https://www.historyisfun.org/pdfbooks/life_at_jamestown.pdf
- Take a look at this food timeline. Highlight the European foods and recipes that would have been made possible only by the ingredients from the Americas:
<http://www.proteacher.com/redirect.php?goto=4745>
- Check out these commemorative coins and stamps for the 13 colonies and then make your own: <https://mrnussbaum.com/13-colonies-symbols-in-stamps-and-coins>
- Create a map of the 13 colonies with an illustration within the outline of the colony of what was important to the people there (i.e. Iron was important for New York)
- Read and interpret George Washington's Rule of Civility and Decent Behavior into modern English and draw an illustration for one rule (i.e. a picture of someone blowing on their soup for number 94): <https://managers.usc.edu/files/2015/05/George-Washingtons-Rules.pdf>
- Make your own compass for some colonial science with Steve Spangler:
